

Dancing the choreography of the collective cycles of 2020

In this lecture I combined my decades long study of astrological cycles and of yods and unaspected planets with actual information from reliable sources: the websites of the WHO, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, The Imperial College etc., the TEDx talks of Bill Gates and his interviews, and official newspapers, etc., none of them being part of conspiracy theories, nor unproven.

I did not want to give any judgement, as only time can tell what really happened. My research just combines astrological cycles with events; it is not a viewpoint, but an illustration how you can do research with the help of astrology. In the course of the research I found information that, although it has been in the newspapers, is not generally known, but is in line with astrological aspects.

I am well aware of the fact that some might think that part of the material presented is controversial, but I would like to state that I only used reliable and direct sources (which I can prove) and that I am not against vaccination. Those who are open minded will see that it is a great example of how impressive astrology is as a tool in understanding actual situations.
